

Business Communications

Business Communications - Cost & Productivity Improvements

Built for dynamic businesses, VoIP offers an integrated voice and data solution that lowers operating costs, increases business efficiency, and guarantees world-class reliability while delivering crystal clear call quality.

Work Smarter

Business VoIP features can change the way you do business and make you more competitive.

- Find me / Follow me: With a few clicks, employees can decide how contacts reach them. Simultaneous ring makes incoming calls ring to multiple phones at the same time, for example it would ring your primary phone and cell phone. This feature can be applied to all incoming calls or to selected numbers only.
- Voicemail as Email: This feature allows employees to receive voicemail messages as email attachments and reply back directly through the system. Respond faster, improve workflow, and keep your audio files indefinitely.
- Mobile office: Users can place calls from any phone as if they were in the office, avoiding long distance fees and hotel surcharges. On caller ID, your calls appear to come from your main office.
- Keep employees connected: Allow multiple office locations and remote workers to stay in close contact with free "on-net" calling and 4-digit dialing regardless of geographic distance.
- Virtual headquarters: Remote employees can have a local number and appear to customers as if they're right next door. This gives you the ability to explore decentralized work models without sacrificing professionalism.
- Scalability: Easily add new features and users as your business grows.
- Flexible control: Administrators can manage the system from any location through an easy-to-use web interface.

