

Print Consulting and Management

The AME Group brings all of our consulting experience along with the Print Management Service. Our goal is not to increase your printing expenditure, but to reduce your costs. The invaluable benefit of a managed service is the collection and analysis of the data gathered over time. It reveals printing trends and helps identify where printing costs originate. AME provides reports which show the total cost of ownership of your print fleet and guide decisions towards the most effective choices to control printing costs.

Consulting

The competing issues of cost, waste, productivity, and convenience are all considered in a print consulting engagement. AME's service is designed to inventory and audit the print devices on your network. This information is compiled to understand your print needs and determine if the devices are being properly utilized to maximize cost savings and productivity. With this service, AME has the ability to:

- Quickly inventory all network print devices
- Find over- and underutilized devices
- Make informed decisions about the device lifecycle
- Reduce the cost of supplies
- Reduce electrical usage
- Audit most printing devices, as it is not brand-specific

Managed Service

AME is capable of proactive support of your printing devices. We can increase your productivity by eliminating print concerns from the office environment. Our monitoring service reports information such as error messages and toner levels. This allows us the ability to install new toner cartridges before the previous cartridge runs out, notify our service department when error messages are received, and dispatch our service technicians all without the necessity of client intervention. With our managed service, we provide:

- Reduced down time
- Proactive printer support
- Tracked supply levels
- Usage reports
- Total Cost of Ownership reporting
